

REMARKABLE CITIES
AND THE
SECURITY AND SOVEREIGNTY OF FOOD AND NUTRITION

—

41 Ways to Regenerate the Local Food System

Jonathan Rosenbloom

ENVIRONMENTAL LAW INSTITUTE
Washington, D.C.

Copyright © 2023 Environmental Law Institute
1730 M Street NW, Washington, DC 20036

Cover design by Evan Odoms.

Published July 2023.

Printed in the United States of America
ISBN 978-1-58576-263-7

Contents

About the Author.....	v
Acknowledgments.....	vii
Introduction (with Sierra Tillery)	ix
Part I: Remove Code Barriers	1
Agricultural Overlay Zoning	2
Aquaponics, Hydroponics, and Aquaculture.....	9
Bees in Urban and Suburban Districts.....	18
Cluster/Conservation Subdivision in Rural/Urban Interface	24
Commercial Sales of Food Produced On Site in Urban and Suburban Areas.....	30
Commercial Solar Development on Farmlands.....	36
Community Gardens on Private Property as a By-Right or Permitted Use	41
Composting in Agricultural, Residential, and Commercial Districts.....	48
Edible Front Yard Gardening in Residential Districts	64
Equipment and Composting as Accessory and Temporary Uses	71
Farmers Markets in a Variety of Districts	76
Fruit Trees in Landscape Requirements.....	84
Keeping Fowl in Urban and Suburban Locations.....	88
Livestock as Accessory Uses, Permitted Uses, and By-Right in Urban and Suburban Areas.....	95
Permit a Broad Range of Urban and Suburban Agricultural Uses By-Right.....	101
Permit the Display and Sale of Fruits and Vegetables on Public Sidewalks	108
Prohibit or Limit the Use of Drive-Through Services.....	115
Recycled Water Irrigation Systems for New Developments ...	120
Special Use Permits for Agritourism on Farms.....	124
Structures and Fencing as Accessory and Temporary Uses.....	131

Temporary Farm Stands.....	137
Part 2: Create Incentives.....	145
Agricultural Lots in Planned Unit Developments (PUDs).....	146
Green Roofing.....	153
Grocery Store Development in Recognized Food Deserts.....	159
Grocery Stores and Infill Development.....	166
Permit Commercial Agricultural Activities in Urban/ Suburban Areas and Allow Them to Satisfy Open- Space Requirements	172
Stormwater Management Credits for Providing Agricultural Land or Open Space.....	179
Subdivision Set-Asides for Agricultural Farmland.....	188
Voluntary Agricultural Land Protection Districts	194
Part 3: Fill Regulatory Gaps.....	199
Agrarian Trusts and Right of First Refusal.....	200
Concentrated Animal Feeding Operation Regulations.....	216
Cost of Services Studies for All Developments in Agricultural Areas	224
Create Urban Growth Area.....	232
Development Restrictions to Protect Prime Soils	237
Establish Urban Service Area	244
Limit the Density of Dollar and Small Box Discount Stores in Food Deserts and Food Swamps	248
Offsetting Agricultural Land Loss Stemming From New Development	254
Protection of Pollinators From Habitat Loss and Chemical Exposure	260
Rainwater Harvesting.....	266
Setbacks and Buffers Between Non-Agricultural and Agricultural Areas	270
Setbacks Protecting Sensitive Habitats and Water Quality ...	277
Appendix: Alternate Categories for Recommended Local Legislation	285
Index of Examples by Jurisdiction	287
General Index.....	295

About the Author

Jonathan Rosenbloom is a Professor of Law at Albany Law School. His scholarship explores issues relevant to local governments and sustainability, with a particular focus on land use. He is a former U.S. Circuit Court clerk, attorney for the federal government and a large law firm, and commissioner on the Des Moines Plan and Zoning Commission. He is the founding director of the Sustainable Development Code, www.sustainablecitycode.org, a model land use code providing local governments with the best sustainability practices in land use. Jonathan has degrees from the Rhode Island School of Design, New York Law School, and Harvard Law School. He is happiest spending time outside with his wife and daughters and woodworking.

